

ROOSEVELT IS A DOCTOR OF LAW

Degree Conferred Upon the President Today at New Haven.

IMPRESSIVE SCENE

Secretary Hay, Archbishop Ireland, Marquis of Ito and Others Honored.

GREAT WORK OF YALE

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 23.—Today witnessed the climax of the celebration of the bi-centenary of Yale. All business is suspended, all schools closed and the people thronged the streets to watch the passing of great men.

President Roosevelt and party arrived at nine thirty o'clock. The police arrangements prevented anyone of the vast crowd that welcomed him from getting unpleasantly close to him. He was escorted by the Second regiment, Second company of the governor's foot guards, the Second company of the governor's horse guards. Headed by a band the presidential party started for the campus. Three mounted policemen rode near the president's carriage.

Arriving in Dwight Hall the president donned the academy robes and the academy party then proceeded to the Hyperion theater where the degree of doctor of laws was conferred upon him. Other distinguished men similarly honored were Secretary Hay, Archbishop Ireland, Marquis of Ito, Booker Washington, Commander Cowles, United States Navy; Speaker Hatayama of the Japanese House of Representatives and Ambassador Choate.

Prominent Yale Graduates

Cyrus Northrop, president of the university of Minnesota, for twenty years professor of rhetoric at Yale and for ten years New England editor, was chosen for his breadth of political vision to make the review of Yale's national life. His address was a eulogy of the deeds and a tribute to the national greatness of such Yale graduates as Senators John Caldwell Calhoun of South Carolina, Truman Smith, Roger S. Baldwin and Jabez W. Huntington of Connecticut; John Davis, Julius Rockwell and Henry L. Dawes of Massachusetts; John M. Clayton and Anthony Higgins of Delaware; William M. Evarts and Chauncey M. Depew of New York; George E. Badger of North Carolina; Randall L. Gibson of Louisiana; William Morris Stewart of Nevada and Frederick T. Dubois of Idaho.

The influence for a sound national life wielded by Noah Webster, 1773, and Joseph E. Worcester, 1811, the greatest American lexicographers, was pronounced by President Northrop greater than that of any statesman who has gone from the doors of Yale.

Work of Yale Scholars
He summarized the work of Yale scholars in the following words:
"In the triennial catalogue of Yale the names of about 22,000 graduates are recorded. Of these about 900 have held positions in Yale or some other college, about 3,000 have some special record for public office or work, and about 1,800 have no record beyond their ordinary academic degree. Who can tell how much the country or the world owes to these 22,000 men?"

W. D. WASHBURN IS PRESIDENT

Officers Elected by the Universalist General Convention
Buffalo, Oct. 23.—The Universalist general convention today elected the following officers:

President—Senator W. D. Washburn, Minnesota.
Vice President—Hosea M. Knowlton, Massachusetts.
Secretary—Rev. G. L. Demarest, D. D., New Hampshire.
Treasurer—F. W. Wise, Massachusetts.
Mr. Hutchinson declined to permit the use of his name for another term as president and he was placed on the board of trustees.

DAY OF HORSES NOT PASSING

Carriage Builders Find There Are Plenty in America
Cincinnati, O., Oct. 23.—At the National Carriage Builders' convention today President P. B. Jenkins, of Merrimac, Mass., in his address, said that the last bulletin of the census department gave 124,128 horses in the city of New York alone, proving most conclusively that the recent much heralded approach of the passing of the horse has not arrived, and that there are still 2,777,497 horses in this country, not including those kept on pastures and ranches.

COURT WILL TEST BELOIT FRANCHISE

Madison, Wis., Oct. 23.—Attorney General Hicks last night decided to allow an action to be brought in the name of the state against W. H. Wheeler of Beloit, in order that the validity of the franchise granted him by the council of Sturgeon Bay to construct a water works system in that city may be tested. The suit which will be heard before Judge Hastings of Green Bay will be a quo warranto action and the main contention of the opponents of the franchise is that the franchise was not granted in accordance with the statutes, one of the irregularities being that Mr. Wheeler did not file application with the city clerk when asking from the franchise.

TOBACCO TRUSTS IN GREAT BATTLE

Universal Company Joins Issue with Imperial of Great Britain—Millions Involved.
New York, Oct. 23.—Wall street looks for an international trade war in the tobacco field. The Universal Tobacco company, which was formed not long ago in this country with $10,000,000 capital stock, it was announced today, has reached an understanding with the Imperial Manufacturing company of Great Britain and Ireland, which represents 90 per cent of the European tobacco industry, by which it will join in the general fight against the Consolidated company.

The Imperial company has a capital of $75,000,000. W. D. Willis of the W. D. and H. O. Willis Company of London will be its president, while William H. Butler is president of the Universal Tobacco company.
J. B. Duke, president of the Consolidated Tobacco company, is reported to have said in England that he will capture the British trade in four years or lose $5,000,000 in the attempt.

LEFT THE GAS JET OPEN BY MISTAKE

Madison, Wis., Oct. 23.—(Special)—Thos. Hardy, a vaudeville actor, was found unconscious in his room at the Avenue hotel at one o'clock in the morning. An open gas jet told the story. A guest noticed the smell of gas in passing and the room was broken open in time to save his life. Hardy says he left the gas jet open by mistake.

CZOLGOSZ SEES CATHOLIC PRIEST, BUT ASSASSIN REFUSES TO REPENT

President McKinley's Slayer Unwilling to Renounce Anarchy and Return to Faith of His Early Years.
Auburn, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Leon F. Czolgosz, the assassin of President McKinley, who is awaiting electrocution in the prison here during the week commencing next Monday, this morning received a visit from the Rev. T. Szadinski, a Polish priest of the Roman Catholic church.

Father Szadinski, who is pastor of St. Stanislaus' church, Rochester, was in this city and was asked to visit the prisoner and remained there about an hour.
The interview between the priest and the prisoner proved unsatisfactory to both. It took place in the condemned man's cell and the conversation was carried on in Polish. During the interview Czolgosz said he had been baptized in the Roman Catholic faith in the Polish church in Detroit. He had abandoned the church early in life and had lost all faith in its teachings. Father Szadinski urged him to renounce his belief in anarchy and return to the faith of his early years. Czolgosz declared his inability to do so, and

MOVE OF GREECE TO ANNEX CRETE; MAY BRING ON A EUROPEAN WAR

Such Action Would Be Considered a Causus Belli by Turkey—Turkish Troops Being Massed on the Frontier—Czar is Behind Greece.

Vienna, Oct. 23.—Advices from Constantinople assert that Prince George of Greece, high commissioner of Crete, intends to summon the people in assembly and proclaim the annexation of Crete to Greece. The Porte, says the advices, has intimated to the Athens cabinet that such action would be considered causus belli by Turkey.
Turkish troops, it is further asserted, are being concentrated on the Turkish frontier.
In diplomatic circles it is not believed that Prince George will persist in his determination of annexation. It is understood that the Czar of Russia is behind Greece in this movement.
Such action as Prince George contemplates would certainly precipitate a terrible European-Asiatic war.

BUFFALO EXPO. TO CLOSE ON NOV. 2

Electric Lights Will Be Turned Off at Midnight—Reduced Rates to Children.
Buffalo, Oct. 23.—The Pan-American exposition will close at midnight November 2 when the electric lights will be finally turned off. A resolution to this effect was adopted by the board of directors this morning.

Arrangements are being made for an eastern New York and exhibitors' day. The date will be announced later. The reduced rate of 15 cents for the admission of public and parochial school children of Buffalo has been extended to all children outside of Buffalo, provided in the case of the latter they will be admitted at the reduced rate when fifteen or more come in charge of a teacher, the teacher to be entitled to free admission.
The crowd returned the fire and there was a vigorous fusillade for a time. A number of bullets lodged in the house. The people in the house were besieged for two hours until the arrival of police who dispersed the party. Over 200 people surrounded the house, and they became so enraged at the action of the bride and groom in discharging firearms at them a lynching was feared. The disturbance was due to a refusal of the groom to put up money for beer.

BOERS ARE BUYING BIG WAR SUPPLIES

The Burghers Get Horses in Russia, Guns from England, and Artillery from France.
London, Oct. 23.—The morning papers print a number of reports from various sources tending to show that the Boers are replenishing their war supplies in Europe. The correspondent of The Standard at Moscow says the burghers are buying horses from the peasants of southern Russia at fair prices.

The Express says it learns the Boers are bargaining with a French company for the purchase of field guns. They are making special efforts to purchase the French guns which were displayed at the military exhibition in London and have not yet been removed. They have also asked a small South American state to buy guns and rifles in England for the Boers, and an agent is now residing at Birmingham for that purpose. It is added that the Boers have already succeeded already in getting many guns through Portuguese east Africa.

The Brussels papers print a story that Mr. Kruger has received £80,000 ($400,000) in English bank notes for the purchase of arms.
The Daily Express learns that Lord Kitchener has wired an urgent demand to the war office for more trained, mounted men.

MORE TESTIMONY IN SCHLEY CASE

Witness Avers That Capt. Sigbee Said Cervera's Fleet Was Not in Santiago.
Washington, D. C., Oct. 23.—When the Schley court opened this morning the first on the stand were a number of witnesses who made unimportant corrections in the testimony. Correspondent Graham added to his testimony that not only did Sigbee state that the Spanish were not at Santiago but he clinched his information by saying that he had two pilots aboard who were sure the Spanish boats were too big to get through the harbor entrance.

James Hare, photographer of the Illustrated Weekly, was called. He said he was on the press boat and met the scout boat St. Paul, May 26. Sigbee was asked if there was any news of Cervera's fleet. Sigbee replied that they were not at Santiago.

Chief Boutawain Hill, who was on the Brooklyn during the war, testified that here was never a time when the Texas was in danger of being run down by the Brooklyn. When Yeoman Ellis was killed Lieut. McCauley said "Let's throw the body overboard." But Schley said: "No he died like a brave man and he'll be buried like one." While the battle was raging Schley was self possessed and constantly sent words of encouragement to the men below letting them know of the progress of the battle.

GOVERNOR IN AUTO.

Takes a Ride with Judge Zimmermann and Returns on Horseback to the Fox Farm.
Madison, Wis., Oct. 23.—Governor La Follette was at his office yesterday morning to look over his mail and dispatch the usual routine of business of the office. This done he accepted the invitation from Judge Zimmermann to take a spin around the streets of the city in the governor's new automobile. The governor evidently enjoyed the ride greatly. After dinner he started for the Fox farm on horseback and he will make the trip every day as long as the weather will permit.

Upon his return to the city this morning he heard the arguments for the pardon of Frank and Richard Beidel, two young men who were sent to Waupun for three years in November 1899 for horse stealing. The attorney in the case is E. C. Gentry of Reedsburg.

TOISTOL IS AGAIN ILL

St. Petersburg, Oct. 23.—Toistol is again seriously ill on the estate of the Countess Palin near Aloupka in the Crimea.

ERDALL GOES TO ST. PAUL

Lawyer Takes Position With Big Railroad Company
Madison, Wis., Oct. 23.—Attorney John L. Erdall, formerly assistant attorney general, has accepted a position in the legal department of the Chicago and Great Western Railway company and has gone to St. Paul to take up his new work. His family will continue to live here. They have a fine home on the Sherman avenue shore of Lake Mendota.

Three years ago Mr. Erdall was one of the leading candidates for the nomination for attorney general on the republican ticket, but after a warm contest was defeated by the present incumbent of the office, E. R. Hicks of Oshkosh.

CARNEGIE TO HEAD A SCHOOL

Accepts Lord Rectorship of St. Andrews University, London
London, Oct. 23.—Andrew Carnegie, replying to the unanimous request of the students that he allow himself to be nominated to the lord rectorship of St. Andrews university in succession to Professor James Stuart, whose term expires in November, has accepted the nomination.

GREAT BRUTALITY ON TURKISH SOIL

Brother of Miss Stone's Companion Is Murdered—Cannot Reach Captive Woman.
London, Oct. 23.—A morning paper publishes the following communication dated Saturday, Oct. 19, from Sofia: "On the frontier, near Grosshevo, yesterday, five fugitives from Baniska, Macedonia, among them a brother of Mme. Taika, Miss Stone's companion, were shot dead by Turkish frontier guards, while endeavoring to cross into Bulgarian territory."

"United States Consul General Dickinson, believing that they were members of the American mission church, has demanded an official inquiry."

"Great brutality exists in the district between Baniska and the frontier. Turkish officials have arrested more than 100 residents of Bulgarian nationality and subjected them to torture in order to wring from them information as to where Miss Stone's whereabouts."

The Daily Mail says under a Vienna date that it is reported from Sofia that United States Consul General Dickinson has received intelligence from Shepherds that Miss Stone was seen at Jokobuda, on Turkish territory, about two hours' journey from the Bulgarian frontier.

Cannot Reach the Captive
Samakov, Oct. 23.—Owing to the severe frost prevailing in the mountains all efforts to send parcels of clothes and other necessities to Miss Stone, who must be suffering from the cold, have been baffled. All attempts have been unsuccessful. The bandits are apparently afraid of treachery and determined not to disclose their hiding place.

May Release Miss Stone
A rumor is current here that the brigands who hold Miss Stone are disposed to release her without a ransom. This willingness to release Miss Stone says the report, is the result of a threat on the part of Bulgaria to dissolve the Macedonia committee unless such action is taken. This action of the government is due to Consul General Dickinson's protests.

SASH AND DOOR MEN IN A BIG COMBINE

Nearly All the Concerns of That Kind in the Country Are Ready to Merge.
Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 23.—A combination of the sash and door interests of the United States is nearly completed, the promoters of the proposed trust having secured factories and options covering nearly the entire country. C. L. Poole, emissary of the New York banking firm which is promoting the deal, left for the east today with options on all but one of the big factories here. The factory owners will receive part cash part common stock and part preferred stock, and besides will be retained in the local management. Other big centers are Oshkosh, Wausau, Merrill and La Crosse, Wis.; Dubuque, Clinton and Muscatine, Ia.; and Rock Island, Ill.

MENASHA HOTEL IS BURNED DOWN

Leading House of That City—Loss Will Reach $5,000—All of the Guests Escaped.
Menasha, Wis., Oct. 23.—The National, the leading hotel in this city, and one of the oldest in the county was practically burned to the ground this morning. The guests got out in safety though many of them experienced difficulty and none of them saved anything of their belongings. Loss to the hotel $5,000, loss to guests estimated at $2,000.

LUZON REBELS CONTINUE ACTIVE; SAID TO BE ASSEMBLING IN ISLAND

Recruiting of Filipinos Work of Gen Malvars—Chaffee Does Not Think Natives Will Do Much Harm.
Manila, Oct. 23.—General uneasiness prevails in central Luzon. The garbans report that several bands of rebels, numbering twenty-five or fifty, are endeavoring to concentrate at one point. This, it is believed, is the result of General Malvars' efforts at recruiting.

Notices which were recently posted on the doors of the churches in Batangas province urge that an organization be completed by Jan. 1. There is a scare over this in Manila, which is fomented by the sensational papers. The editors of these troops demand that additional troops be sent to Batangas at once, as there are now only 1,200 men there under Colonel McKibbin. In addition to the metropolitan police. The native police which can hardly be counted on, are not taken into account.

General Chaffee does not expect to hear of any extensive engagement in the island of Samar. He believes that the operations there will not result in an open fight. It is hard to find armed Filipinos, but every man without occupation will be compelled to go into a town.

It is reported that all the rifles captured by the Filipinos at Balangiga are now in the island of Samar. In fact Leyte is as disturbed as Samar. The object of the reinforcement of American troops now being pushed forward is to increase all garrisons to thirty-eight men. Some of them have until recently numbered only eight men. The reinforcements will also allow the detailing of a working force to operate in the field, hunting for insurgents.

Civil Governor Taft is confined to the palace with an attack of bowel trouble. He has been ordered by his physician to remain absolutely quiet for a week.

COULD NOT KEEP HIS MOUTH SHUT

Gen. Buller Deprived of the Command of First Army Corps.
TALKED TOO MUCH
Efforts to Explain His Order to Surrender Ladysmith Exasperates War Office.

FRENCH GIVEN PLACE

London, Oct. 23.—Sir Redvers Buller has been relieved of the command of the First army corps in consequence of a speech he made Oct. 10, after a luncheon given in his honor by the King's Royal Rifle, dealing with his famous dispatch to General White at Ladysmith. He has been placed on half pay and General French has been appointed to succeed him.

In the official announcement, the war office says that the commander-in-chief, "after full consideration of all the circumstances and the explanations furnished," recommended that General Buller be relieved, which has been done.

The appointment of General French is to take effect "when his services are no longer required in South Africa." Pending General French's return General Hildyard will command at Aldershot.

Says He Had Ill Luck
Ill luck is the cause to which General Buller attributes his downfall. His friends and foes alike place it too his unfortunate habit of talking too freely.

Ever since the disastrous Tugela campaign, wherein came to British arms, through Buller, the most terrible and indelible disgrace that has ever befallen on Britain's history, the commander of that expedition has been aggressive in the defense of his movements.

Has Talked Too Much
At all times, whether opportune or not, Buller has taken up the cudgels of speech in his own behalf, and has dared and defied all his critics to prove that he did not do what was right at all stages of the campaign.

In vain have his friends urged him to be less sympathetic in his own cause. In vain have they attempted to see in his utterances the honest effort of a soldier to clear his name and fame. Time and time again he has had it pointed out to him that the records of the campaign cannot be refuted and that his statements would surely end in serious trouble for him.

His foes, too, were generous in giving him an opportunity to redeem himself, and it was hoped that for the sake of honor of the British army that Buller would subside.

But General Buller could not keep the silence that he above all, should have known was necessary. In his case, and so, a week ago last Thursday, he amazed Britain at a luncheon at Westminster, by not only defying and challenging the Times, which had said he was not fit to command the first army corps, but by admitting that he had suggested to Sir White that he surrender Ladysmith, destroying all stores and escaping with the garrison as best he could.

The evening papers generally condemn the dismissal of Buller and say he has been made a scapegoat for war office blunders.

Helps Labor Again

Fall River, Mass., Oct. 23.—Matthew C. Borden, who a few weeks ago averted a strike of 30,000 cotton mill operatives of this city by breaking away from the manufacturers' organization, which had decided upon a 15 per cent reduction of wages, and by increasing the pay of his employees 5 per cent, has posted notices in his mills announcing another advance of 5 per cent in wages to take effect Nov. 4.

WILL LONGEVITY REACH 100 MARK? SWAPPING OF CLIMATIC MISFITS

To the Editor:—I notice in recent publications that we as a nation are increasing our longevity quite perceptibly during the last decade. That the average age has increased from about twenty-nine years to thirty-three or four years. And if all goes well the longevity will reach the "100" year mark. Well let it go on, and I will calculate to be amongst the "ninety-and-nine" multitude, notwithstanding that I am three score already.

I also notice that the press seems inclined to give the largest share of this increase to sanitary measures, which is good as far as it goes. But let us look on all sides of the proposition and try to be just in bestowing our credits along this line. Let us remember that some other factors have been at work to cast in their "mites" in this grand work of increasing our length of days. I have been riding one of the most recent "hobbies" along health lines during the whole of the last decade by advocating climatic changes for consumptive invalids, and have been one of a ring of climatologists who have proven beyond doubt that ninety per cent. of such a large class of sufferers can be saved and restored to health and long lives.

I know that hundreds of such victims are living today that only for "swapping" off their old climatic misfits would have been carried to untimely graves and thus helped to lessen the longevity. Again, all well posted people have heard of the eminent Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes, who, some thirty-five years ago declared in one of his articles: "If all the drugs were cast into the sea, it would be lamentable for the fishes but admirable for the human race." Now that it is possible for such a large percentage of consumptive invalids to recover by discarding drugs and trusting to a wise change of climate, and since every invalid who places themselves under the care of some natural healer whether it be the so-called Christian Science, Osteopathy, or some of the so-called occult disease healers, are willing—so far as they are concerned—that the drugs be cast into the sea regardless of what the consequences may be to the fishes.

We know that thousands of people have been thus placing themselves during the last ten years, we know that a large proportion of such invalids have been more or less benefited, but I have never known of one such beneficiary to attribute the good results thus obtained to leaving off taking drugs. In my opinion every such good result is due to two things, first to the abandoning of drugs—which is the principal reason—and to mind therapeutics which we all know has more or less influence in restoring a sick person to health, whether it comes from the most highly educated medical practitioner or from the most humble Christian Science practitioner.

I feel sure that my life was saved and lengthened because—twenty years before Mrs. Eddy launched her so-called Christian Science—I left off taking drugs and changed climatic conditions, after five eminent physicians told me I could not live to exceed one year. I have no doubt their prognosis would have come to pass if I had kept on taking their prescriptions for my incurable tuberculosis.

If we class these wonderfully curative agents in as "sanitary" measures, then certainly our increased longevity should be nearly all credited to sanitation.

We must all admit that health is God's greatest blessing to man, and we ought to know that every life from the new born infant has an undetermined value in the home, commonwealth and nation.

We should know also that it has been estimated that the life of an artisan—between the ages of twenty-one and fifty years has a value in the building up and perpetuating the prosperity of any commonwealth equal to an engine or manufacturing plant costing $10,000, and earning six per cent. per annum. Wisconsin is a fairly healthy state. I suppose that out of nearly 2,000,000 population, not more than 3,000 deaths occurred in 1900. We are lacking in reliable vital statistics, but we will soon have that defect remedied, for our state board of health will soon be up to the legal voting age, and we will do our best to help them get what they so much desire, viz.: A vital statistician officer appointed.

We find in their last—18th—report that 749 people died of pneumonia and 1,147 others died from consumption in 1900. The majority of these were adults and about one-third of them were our productive artisans. We will only reckon that one-fourth and find by this estimate that we lost that year 499, which, at the estimated value, equals $299,400. This alone is an item which to my mind constitutes a dire calamity in the commonwealth, one-third of which is due to our acute calamity disease, pneumonia, and the balance to our old chronic calamity disease, consumption. I claim that fifty per cent. of that loss in the commonwealth might have been saved by a wise change of climatic conditions and environments.

What further per cent. of the loss to the commonwealth might have been averted from having a larger per cent. of those who died in infancy from acute contagious diseases, is a difficult problem to solve, on account of the undetermined value of such lives. One proposition we are sure of. If we continue to manage the most vital problem—health—in no more progressive methods than we have in the past it will take many decades for us to attain the 100-year longevity.

Then why not turn over a new leaf by adding strength to our worthy boards of health throughout the state by supplying them with ample funds to carry out scientific health measures, such as solving the contagiousness of diseases, and the preventive scientific measures, as well as to keep up an untiring work of research of new methods of curing diseases. If the old adage of: "An ounce of prevention is worth more than a pound of cure," be true, it surely applies along this line.

We, as a commonwealth, use our paternal prerogatives of compelling men and women to set themselves up as healers of the sick, to submit to rigid examinations, and to such as are able to meet the requirements of that stringent law we grant certificates of permission to ply their profession regardless of partisan endorsements.

Then why not separate our state board of health from partisan politics? When installed as a state board why not make them responsible for undue or abnormal death rates? Yea, verily, since we can, and do assert our paternal prerogative over the medical profession, why not insist that any and all physicians while practicing their profession in this commonwealth shall contract with families to draw a stipulated salary so long as all members in the family are not sick, but as soon as some member of the family is overtaken by disease the salary of the physician so contracting shall cease?

There are plenty of legitimate methods by which the people might truly illustrate the motto of the commonwealth along health lines, "FORWARD," is our motto, and we have demonstrated more fully in nearly every other branch of our prosperity than we have in our greatest "of God's blessings,—health. Let us not neglect this most vital proposition another day. "So mote it be."

W. P. R.
Janesville, Wis., Oct. 23, 1901.

ternoons, as previously. The young ladies follow the same course of study as the elder ladies and last year the lady who served the Woman's History Club as leader on Saturday took charge of the meeting of the auxiliary on the following Monday. This year the auxiliary has been invited to meet with the main class in order to give the young ladies the benefit of Prof. Wright's instruction. This will make a class of forty-five ladies who will derive great benefit from the exceptional advantages which the securing of Prof. Wright will give their year's work.

After the business of the afternoon had been transacted there was a social session in which the ladies enjoyed the good things prepared for them by their hostess. Luncheon was served at 5:30 o'clock and Mrs. Hunt made it prettily suggestive of the coming season's work by placing at each plate a card on which she had written a Greek quotation with the name of the author. She also presented each lady with a handsome mounted photograph of some specimen of Greek art and these will be highly prized souvenirs of the occasion. A large carnation also lay at each cover and these beautiful flowers formed the graceful centerpiece on the dining table and were also used as decorations in the parlors.

The luncheon was a delicious one and was prettily served in four courses and the comfort of the guests was well cared for by Mrs. Frank B. Farnsworth, Misses Kate Fife, Louise Crosby and Grace Crosby of Seymour, Ill., who served the dainty viands faultlessly. The luncheon hour was one of social gaiety and there was an absolute lack of formality. Both before and after luncheon there was excellent piano music, furnished informally by different ladies of the class.

The Woman's History club was organized in 1876 and is the oldest study class in this city and one of the oldest and most conservative in the state. Its membership is limited to thirty and includes ladies who are prominent for their interests in the intellectual life of the city. Membership in the club is an honor not lightly won and highly prized when secured.

PLEASANT DANCE BY DEGREE OF HONOR

Social Gathering at Assembly Hall Last Evening Which Was Thoroughly Enjoyed by All Present.

Assembly hall was never more prettily decorated for an evening of dancing and pleasure than on last evening when the great dance hall appeared in festive array in honor of Laurel Lodge No. 2, Degree of Honor and their annual autumn party. Cozy corners, invitingly arranged, enticed people inclined to conversation to the comforts of easy chairs and divans. Handsome curtains were draped to the windows and the walls were tastefully decorated with white and green and branches of brilliant autumn leaves.

Johnny Smith's orchestra sat behind a beautiful bank of potted plants above which extended an arch of trailing vines and autumn leaves. The orchestra included five pieces and the music which they discoursed seemed unusually fine to the dancers. The party was largely attended, about two hundred couples enjoying the delights of the occasion. It was a brilliant success and much credit is due the following committees: Arrangements—Mrs. J. W. McCue, chairman; and Mesdames M. M. Farley, E. Shoemaker, Harry Reynolds and F. Dunwiddie. Reception—Mesdames J. J. Kelly, P. Ohlweiler, Willis Taylor, Chas. Lagerman, E. J. Schmidley. Floor—B. Dunwiddie, E. Shoemaker, Charles Lagerman, Fred Smith, J. J. Kelly and Charles Young.

SEASONABLE HINTS.

Guard Your Health in Fall and Early Winter.

A change from warm to cold is always attended with more danger than from a cold to a warm temperature, hence the greater mortality from lung and throat diseases at this season of the year as compared with spring.

The best protection against colds is not so much in extra clothing as in good digestion.

If the digestion and circulation are good colds will be unknown. Poor digestion causes poor circulation of the blood and when in this condition severe colds are contracted on the slightest provocation.

People who make a regular practice of taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after meals are free from colds, simply because their digestion is perfect, the heart strong and regular, and the whole system fortified against disease.

It requires little argument to convince anyone that the best safeguard against colds, pneumonia and change of temperature is a good stomach.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets taken after meals are dissolved and mingling with the food cause it to be promptly digested and assimilated; they do this because they contain nothing but harmless digestive elements, which digest meat, eggs and other food even when the stomach itself is weak and flaccid.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets make people well and keep them well, and the best habit you can acquire is to keep daily use of them at meals to make the digestive organs strong and vigorous.

TRANSFERRED TO THE ST. PAUL ROAD

Deed Filed Conveying the Janesville & Southeastern to the Present Company.

The Janesville and Southeastern is now a part of the St. Paul railway system. Yesterday a deed was filed with the secretary of state at Madison transferring its line from Janesville to Libertyville, Ill., to the Milwaukee road. The consideration was $1,012,000 and the deed bore $504.75 in revenue stamps. The transfer is dated September 18. The property involved is the new short line from Janesville to Chicago, which the Milwaukee company built last summer.

Carcajou Club Officers
The annual meeting of the Carcajou club was held last Saturday at the club house at Lake Koshkonong. A majority of the members of the club were present and the officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, F. F. Pearson; vice president, L. I. Skavlem, secretary and treasurer, Burton F. Nowlan. Most of the members of the club present at the business meeting stayed over Sunday and enjoyed a canvas back dinner.

Doty's Winning Laurels
Clarence Burdick and wife, of this city, known to the theatrical world as Earle Doty and Rosa May Doty, are winning laurels for themselves by their production of Goethe's immortal romance, "Faust." The Eau Claire Leader gives the production an extended notice and, among other complimentary things says: "Doty's version of Goethe's great masterpiece, 'Faust,' was produced at the Grand Opera House last evening in a most creditable manner. Mr. Earle Doty impersonated Mephistopheles and did it well. The character is a most difficult one and requires the most careful treatment for the devil has to be all things to all men, to cajole, sneer, mock, threaten, all in turn, and this he did, and did it cleverly. He is an accomplished actor and has a brilliant future. The part of Marguerite was taken by Rosa May Doty, a beautiful and accomplished lady who has evidently studied her part to perfection. She created a most favorable impression. The scenery was remarkably fine and the orgies and revelries of the evil spirits, better known as the Broken scene, was the finest ever shown by any company in this city. Doty's Faust is deserving of a full house wherever it appears."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local application, they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When the tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that can be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

BANKING AND CURRENCY.

Secretary Gage, as well as Mr. Eckles, former controller of the treasury, are criticized for views expressed in the Bankers' convention held recently in Milwaukee. These gentlemen are bankers and very naturally view the question from behind the counter and possibly from a prejudiced standpoint; and yet they are broad-minded men, of large experience and will be credited with honesty of motive in the views advanced. Mr. Gage briefly outlines his position as follows:

"First—That the demand liabilities of the government known as legal tender notes should be put in the way of retirement and cancellation.

"Second—That this be accomplished without any burden of interest cost to the public treasury.

"Third—That our system of bank note circulation be so modified as to make it more responsive to commercial and industrial requirements, without any increase of risk to the billholder.

"Fourth—That beyond acting as a guardian and trustee for the people in relation to national banks, the government's guaranty to bank note issues should cease.

"Fifth—That the public moneys in excess of a reasonable working balance for daily use should be deposited in national banks. That a simple and safe system of distribution of funds be devised.

"Sixth—That in periods of national peace and prosperity the public revenue should be somewhat in excess of public expenditure, and that the surplus revenue should be applied to the reduction of the public debt."

Mr. Eckles endorses this policy, and if anything is more stringent in his demands. The first three propositions will be generally endorsed.

It has long been recognized that the greenback as a circulating medium should be retired, that the policy of redeeming it and then sending it out to be redeemed again involves the same principle that is employed by a merchant when he renews his note with no thought of final cancellation. The greenback is simply a government liability and with the present treasury surplus, it should be canceled and retired from circulation.

The third proposition contemplates removing taxes and other obstructions from national bank issues, so that it may be an incentive for banks to keep their notes of issue in circulation. Under existing laws, national banks are taxed one percent on their notes of issue, and are obliged to carry with the United States treasury a cash balance of five percent of their issue, in addition to the government bonds for the full amount. This five percent balance is to take care of mutilated notes that are forwarded from all parts of the country for redemption. Many banks refuse to issue the amount of notes to which they are entitled because of the burdens and restrictions imposed.

The fourth proposition is the one that has called forth more or less criticism, and much of it is the result of ignorance or prejudice. Mr. Gage advocates that the guardianship and trusteeship now exercised by the government, continue in force. A guardian or trustee in any private business is considered safe, and when the government assumes the responsibility, there is no occasion for fear.

Mr. Gage knows, as does any other thoughtful financier, that the time is not very far distant, when government bonds will be redeemed, and this class of securities no longer available for collateral for bank circulation. If the government continues to act as guardian or trustee, when the time arrives, then some other class of securities will be demanded, and this is where the howl comes in about wild cat currency. A little thought will convince the most skeptical that these fears are groundless. A national bank always has assets that are reliable. It may be in a weakened condition with more liabilities than assets, and in that case would be insolvent, but if its note is of issue, restricted perhaps to ten percent of its assets, are a first mortgage on its property of whatever nature, the note holder would be a preferred creditor, and the government, being the guardian of these note holders, would see to it that its clientage had ample protection. This is known as the "assets security," and is advocated by both Mr. Gage and Mr. Eckles.

Mr. Stickney would ignore national banks, and establish a central private bank, similar to the bank of England and Scotland and this bank would have branches in almost every community. This plan is a radical change and while it would mean absolute safety to the people, and under its provisions money panics would be impossible, yet it would mean a hardship to national and private banks, and would eventually drive them out of business. In this era of anti-trust discussion, it is doubtful if it meets with favorable consideration.

The monetary system of the country is of vital importance to the welfare of the nation. Congress will be slow to introduce radical reforms, and yet the time is not far distant when the government will be compelled to retire from the banking business.

BETWEEN TWO FIRES.

Congressman Babcock is between two fires. That part of the eastern press that favors high tariff and that is opposed to reciprocity, denounces him, and the conservative press of the west, where he is better known, is not quite sure of his attitude on the question. To add to the embarrassment of the situation local conditions in his home district are not the most harmonious.

If Mr. Babcock has started on a crusade against the steel, or any other individual industry, under the guise of tariff reform, he will soon discover that he is trotting in a class largely by himself. If he favors reciprocal trade relations, under the policy suggested by the late President McKinley, he will find plenty of support.

Regarding his own immediate district, it is generally conceded that he formulated the plan and engineered the craft, that landed the present governor in the executive chair. That he has experienced some surprises since, is equally apparent. His old time political associates are in a position most of them to say to him: "I told you so," and while there is not much consolation in that sort of comfort, yet it finds ready expression.

It will be necessary for Mr. Babcock to get off the fence when the next campaign opens, and he is apt to find himself between the devil and the deep blue sea, unless conditions change in his own district. It is among the possibilities that his voice may not be heard on tariff reform after 1902.

OPINIONS OF BISHOP JOYCE.

Bishop Joyce, presiding at the Methodist conference at Ripon, said in an interview the other day, speaking of the various churches:

"The strength of the Episcopal church is in its ritualistic service. Of the Presbyterian in its dignity. Of the Congregational in its liberality and sociability. Of the Baptist, in its loyalty. Of the Methodist, in its warm heartedness." Then he added: "Did you ever see a poor preacher in the Baptist church? If they have a stick, they paint it and vanish it, and hold it up with intense loyalty. They are growing, today faster than any protestant church in the land. And loyalty is the secret of growth."

And then he said: "But we Methodists all want $2,500 preachers for a thousand dollars, and then we stand off and look at them and turn away to criticize."

The old bishop had evidently had his eyes open, and had discovered conditions that too frequently exist.

The Rev. Frank Crane, of Chicago, a noted Methodist divine, gained notoriety last Sunday morning by saying from his pulpit, that Emma Goldman and her sympathizers, were representatives of advanced thought, and that the world would be at a standstill but for the modern reformer of socialistic tendencies. The reverend gentleman possesses such advanced notions that he is liable to wake up some morning without a church.

Alexander Elijah Dowie has just installed in his council room the finest mahogany table ever made in this country. It weighs as much as a burglar proof safe, and cost $2,440. The modern prophet cares nothing for expense. He has discovered an acre of diamonds near Chicago, that is not affected by drought or any other calamity. The American people were always willing to pay for a first-class humbug.

Iowa republicans are somewhat disturbed over the lack of interest in the state campaign. Mr. Cummings, the candidate for governor is something of a railroad reformer, and the state has already been reformed to death along that line. The prohibitionists have got their second wind and are doing their best to help elect a democrat. Iowa is not in Kansas, but it has many of the symptoms.

The Second Reformed Presbyterian church of Boston is an oddity. The society has just suspended James Jackson, who for ten years has been an elder, because he took the oath of allegiance, and became a citizen of the United States. The objection named is that the constitution does not contain the name of God. Boston is capable of almost anything in the way of citizenship.

A Boston educator struck a sympathetic chord with his class of 150 young men, by telling them that if they would spend less money on dress suits, and more on pipes and beer, as the students do in Germany, that there would be some encouragement for poor boys to get an education. Boston is ripe for almost any theological, and the professor may gain an audience.

James Merlidy of Kentucky, forty-five years of age, has just married his fourteenth wife. He has wept over four graves and swore at the expense of nine divorces. James is not a quitter. Some enterprising Mormon missionary should hunt him up, and persuade him to go west and grow up with the country.

President Roosevelt is a hobbyist on civil service reform. If he will investigate the post offices of the country, and note conditions under civil service protection, he will not be so enthusiastic. The average postmaster is a figurehead, commanding less respect than a wooden Indian.

An air line railroad 1,500 miles long from the City of Mexico to St. Paul, is the latest venture. Detroit capital is behind the enterprise and 7,000,000 acres of land goes with the concession.

President Roosevelt and Booker T. Washington are to dine with President Hadley of Yale, some time this week. The southern bombardment appears to be harmless. The people in that section of the country will discover that the rough rider is not easily intimidated.

PRESS COMMENT.

Marionette Eagle: Once a populist, always a populist, applies to some men. Others are able to reform.

Racine Journal: Fighting Bob Evans won't express any opinion on the Schley-Sampson inquiry, but will say the Texas had something to do with the knocking out of the Spanish fleet.

Green Bay Gazette: Russia wanted the fastest first-class battleship in the world, and as a matter of course placed her order with an American firm. She got what she ordered and that tells the whole story.

Fond du Lac Commonwealth: The announcement to the effect that President Roosevelt's message is to be a short one will be exceedingly welcome. If it can be brought down to a readable size a splendid service will be rendered the public.

Superior Telegram: It is reported that some Chinese belles will visit Washington this winter as guests of Minister Wu. They will discover that their visit will not be prolonged beyond their inclination to stay as was that of some American women in the Chinese capitol some months ago.

Appleton Crescent: It is somewhat curious that neither President McKinley nor President Roosevelt have ever specifically favored ship subsidies. All they have done is to declare in favor of the "building up of our merchant marine"—a thing which all good Americans must desire.

Marionette Eagle: Democratic papers like the Chicago Chronicle, Oshkosh Times, and Milwaukee Journal are looking for some issue upon which the democratic party can be reunited and re-animated. Free silver is admittedly a dead issue, and anti-imperialist talk has proved to be unpopular. To use a very mixed metaphor, the old democratic hulk has not a leg left to stand on.

Eau Claire Leader: The people of the northern states will be spared at least one infection this winter. They will not be obliged to read those painful notices in the papers which they have been obliged to peruse for years, to the effect that farmers in Western Kansas are using corn for fuel.

POSTSCRIPTS.

Not Hiram Drink. The prohibitionist had assailed the Demon Rum mercilessly, and with every fresh onslaught the man with the red nose had applauded.

"Friend," said the lecturer at last, "you look like one who has been a drinking man." "You bet I have been, stranger," answered the man earnestly, "but it does my heart good to see you git out after rum. I never did have any use for it. Tain't a fit drink for any man. You can't hammer it too hard for me, an' when you're through I've got a bit of old rye here that'll warm your heart up good. I like a man that knows what to hit and what not to hit."

Good Advice.

"Now, Hiram," she said, as he prepared to go to the city, "jest you remember one thing."

"What's that?" he asked. "Don't buy anything that ye can't put in your pocket and bring home with ye. The Masonic Temple ain't no good for ye if ye can't fetch it along."

"All right," he agreed. "An' if somebody tries to sell ye something ye can't take right along with ye, don't buy. If it was worth havin' he wouldn't let go of it."

Good Advice.

"Things are all wrong in this world," growled the anarchist. "If you think so," was the reply, "you might try the next, and leave those of us who are reasonably well satisfied to enjoy this."

It Comes High, Too.

He had just returned from the city, and he was strangely uncommunicative concerning his adventures. "Did you buy anything while you were gone, Hiram?" she asked. "Yep," he answered shortly. "Pay much for it?" she persisted, for she rather expected the material for a new gown.

"What was it?"

"Experience."

"I thought you loaded up with that last time," she said bitterly.

"Well this was another kind," he explained.—Chicago Post.

Had to Give It Up.

"A prophet," he explained, "is a man who foretells what's going to happen."

"Then why do you call the weather man a prophet?" asked the boy.

The man looked at him blankly for a minute.

"Elest if I know," he said at last.

LEAF TOBACCO CURING BLACK

GROWERS ENCOUNTER DISCOURAGING
AGING CONDITION.

Farmers Have Decided That Dealers Must Have the Leaf and They Are Holding Prices Up—Tobacco Markets in New York, Philadelphia and Milwaukee.

Very little change in the condition of the leaf tobacco market is noted since last week. Some small sales of old goods have been made but the most of the big packers are busy sampling the 1900 crop and getting it in shape for the eastern markets.

During the week quite a number of dealers have made trips into the surrounding country for the purpose of noticing the condition of the 1901 crop while hanging in the shed and to get a line on what the farmers were holding it at.

According to these men the outlook is most discouraging, the tobacco is coming out black and is more like a piece of leather than it is like tobacco. In other cases the leaf has cured out green like hay without any substance to it and is practically worthless.

In the face of all this the farmers have decided that the dealers must have the goods and are asking anywhere from eight to twelve cents for goods that are not worth over four or five and possibly not that much.

The dealers say that the outcome of this will be that some of the goods will be picked up at a fair price, while the majority will be left on the farmers' hands for them to sort and pack and then in a year to two sell it for about the same money they were offered for it by the dealers in the bundle.

The crop is an uncertain one at the best and will not bring the prices demanded by the growers.

The American Tobacco company is in a large measure responsible for the high price at which the farmers are holding this year's crop. Several of their men have been through the country looking at crops. Whenever they strike a man that has a fairly good crop they ask him in a casual way would you take ten cents or eleven cents or twelve cents for the crop or any other price that happens to strike their fancy. The farmer usually asks a cent or two more a pound than the price named by the buyer who then drives away without making any definite offer. The farmer then tells his neighbor that so and so was to his place and offered him so much for his crop.

The news soon spreads around the neighborhood and the result is that everyone has his price way up in the air. The farmer should take some of these foxes gentlemen up at their price and see how soon they would crawl. At any rate very little buying is being done, the dealers are keeping still to see what the demand is going to be for this class of goods in the eastern markets.

New York Market

New York, Oct. 23.—The market remains strong and firm although the volume of business does not come up to expectations. The market is strong because everybody knows that there is not stock enough on hand to carry the cigar industry through for a year, and it is firm because prevailing prices will have to be paid if cigar manufacturing by individual firms is to be carried on throughout the year. The market is not in a hurry to unload; quite the contrary. Large packings are being held for speculation and they have not yet been even sampled yet. The business done for the present is mostly for immediate wants. Hence the busiest people in the trade are the jobbers, and the sales for the week aggregate about 1,800 boxes, which were disposed of in lots of small quantities.

The Sumatra market shares in the general demand for immediate consumption. The quantities taken range from one to ten bales at the utmost, but the aggregate sales for the week reached about 250 bales.

Philadelphia Market

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 23.—Business in Philadelphia is in a peculiar condition. The trade seems unable to account for the dullness. The manufacturers should now be buying old goods right and left, but there seems to be little if any, old goods on the market, and the growing crop in all the states is reported poor—that is, this season's crop. There are several reasons offered for the present conditions. In the first place, the American Cigar company has upset the manufacturers to the extent that they are cautious, and are buying only from hand to mouth awaiting developments. Then, again, the trade are speculating as to the coming sale of the late Walter G. Wilson's tobacco. If this tobacco should be broken up into small lots it will make local selling dull for a time, or until this stock is worked up. It is always the case that when an auction sale of goods is held buyers usually expect to get the goods cheap and the buying may be active. On the other hand, this stock may be bought in bulk, and if so, it is likely to go out of town when the local market will not be materially affected.

Milwaukee Markets

Milwaukee, Oct. 23.—Business among the leaf jobbers has not picked up very materially. The cry among the most of them is that prices are too high. Collections are doing nicely, and they have no complaint on that score. Manufacturers have nothing new to report, and they still say that the demand for the higher priced cigars continues brisk. Retailers are joggling along nicely, waiting to see what kind of weather we will have this winter. Their business is good.

Supper this evening at the Congregational church from 5:30 to 7:30 o'clock. Program will follow to be given free.

From $10 to $30 Bort, Bailey & Co. have placed on sale 100 stylish coats for women. The correct lengths are 42, 46 and 52 inches.

It is claimed by the Northwestern officials that a drawbar pulled out on one of the freight cars in the train that blocked the Academy street crossing Monday morning and that they could not move the train until the cars could be fastened together. Chief Hogan is determined to stop this practice of holding the road crossings, and proposes to complain against the next crew that does it.

WELL KNOWN YOUNG PEOPLE MARRIED

Miss Margaret McKeigue and John McVicar are united in St. Patrick's Church today.

For Miss Margaret McKeigue and John McVicar, both well-known young people, a new life opened this morning when they turned from the marriage altar and its recently spoken vows to face the future together, sharing each other's joys and sorrows until the coming of death. The beautiful and impressive marriage service which united the destinies of the young people was sanctified this morning at five o'clock at St. Patrick's church. Rev. Father J. J. Collins performed the ceremony and celebrated the nuptial mass in the presence of only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties.

While the wedding was small and unpretentious, it was a very beautiful one. The bride was attended by her friend, Miss Harriet M. Ryan as her maid of honor and Nell McVicar was best man for her brother.

Seldom is there seen a more handsome bridal party. The personal loveliness of the bride was enhanced by an exquisite gown of old rose fawn silk, handsomely trimmed with applique lace and panne velvet.

A becoming hat of old rose and white completed the beautiful costume. In effective contrast Miss Ryan, the maid of honor, was gowned in gray crepe de chine over turquoise blue silk in which she looked charming.

The two young ladies making a very fair picture, which was in no way marred by the appearance and bearing of the groom and his best man.

After the ceremony a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served for the bridal party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Hayes, 155 South Jackson street, with whom the bride has made her home since early childhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayes being sisters. A profusion of red roses formed the floral decorations for the bridal table.

Mr. and Mrs. McVicar left on the 7:30 train this morning for Milwaukee and they will spend several days in that city and Chicago. On their return they will go to housekeeping in the cosy home at 161 Chatham street which Mr. McVicar built this summer and which is all ready for its occupants.

The bride has been employed for several years in the millinery department of Archie Reid & Co.'s store and is a young lady of exceptionally fine qualities.

The groom is one of the rising young business men of the city being the junior member of the plumbing firm of McVicar Bros. Many handsome presents were received by the happy couple, evidences of the esteem in which they are held. Their friends can wish nothing better for them than that their bright wedding day may be a truthful omen of their future lives.

FLOODS OF WATER FROM A BATH ROOM

Residence of A. F. Spooner, 122 Madison Street, Drenched By a Leak in a Pipe.

The rusting out of a screw in the flushing tank of the bathroom at the home of A. F. Spooner, 122 Madison street, was the cause of the entire house being flooded with water this morning and of great excitement in the neighborhood. For over an hour there was a perfect deluge of water and the bathroom being on the second floor of the house considerable damage was done. A small army of neighbor women labored faithfully mopping up the water but in spite of their efforts, the water soaked through the floors and deluged the down stairs part of the house.

Mrs. Spooner and her youngest daughter Phyllis are visiting in Chicago and this morning Mr. Spooner, who has been laid up with an abscess on his head for several months, started out on a short business trip intending to return this afternoon and leaving his daughter Miss Florence to look up the house before going to school. He warned her against leaving the water running anywhere in the house and she noticed that the water was trickling continually in the bathroom. She tried to stop it and failing in her efforts called in Mrs. O. D. Lincoln, who resides across the street. Mrs. Lincoln had just climbed onto a chair to try to adjust the rubber ball which controls the water in the tank when suddenly the water spouted over the sides of the tank drenching Mrs. Lincoln. Between nine and ten o'clock when the pumps at the power house were working the large jet of water went clear to the ceiling. The water not only soaked the interior of the house but found its way through the outer walls and ran down the outside of the house. Nearly all the neighbors hurried to the assistance of Miss Florence, using mops and all kinds of available cloths to sop the water up with. Either no one thought of turning the water off in the cellar or for some reason found it impossible and it was not until plumbers arrived that the flood of water was stopped. While the extent of the damage cannot be told as yet, the parlor suffered worst and the wall paper, possibly the plaster, will come off. The accident, for which no one was responsible, is especially to be regretted as Mr. Spooner has been ill and out of employment for several months and this new trial cannot fail to discourage him in a measure.

STOP MASON WORK ON FREIGHT DEPOT

The Front Wall on Main Street Was Found To Be Nine Inches Too High.

The mason work on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul freight station on North Main street has been suspended temporarily awaiting the arrival of the company's engineer. It was found that the wall on the Main street side was nine inches too high according to the grade established for the wagon track on that side of the station. The mistake was made by the plans and specifications of the station calling for a railroad track on that side of the station. It was the intention of the company originally to have a track on the Main street side, but this plan was afterward changed, and a wagon track substituted.

When the wall reached the level of the first floor it was discovered that all measurements had been made from the plan calling for a side track and was consequently nine inches too high. When this was discovered the work was stopped and the engineering department of the road notified.

The only way to rectify the mistake without tearing out the wall will be to raise the grade of the wagon track. On the east side where the tracks are laid the wall is all right. The carpenters are still at work and will continue putting the floor joists in position.

NEW METHODIST PASTORS ARRIVE

Rev. J. H. Tippet and the Rev. James Churm Reach Janesville, with Their Families.

Rev. J. H. Tippet, the new pastor of Court street M. E. church, and Rev. James Churm, pastor of the First M. E. church, arrived in the city with their families this noon and were met at the depot by members of the official board of the two churches. Rev. and Mrs. Tippet have a family of four sons and Rev. and Mrs. Churm have four sons and one daughter. Rev. Tippet has his house, gold goods here and expected to take possession of the parsonage at once but Rev. Hall has found it impossible to get away until Friday. In the meantime Rev. Tippet and family are being entertained by Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hay. The parsonage of the First M. E. church is being repaired and is not ready for occupancy. Rev. and Mrs. Churm and youngest child are guests at the home of Mrs. Randall Williams, two children are being entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Archie Crawford and two by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hall. Rev. and Mrs. Woodside expect to leave for their new home Friday.

Cut His Foot With an Ax
Sherman B. Phelps, who resides on Sharon street in the Third ward, met with an accident this morning that will lay him up for some time. He was splitting wood at his home with a new ax which was very sharp. He was holding the stick of wood he was splitting against the chopping block with his right foot. In the downward stroke the blade struck a twig of a brush near by and was deflected out of its course. Instead of striking the stick, the blade struck him squarely on the end of the foot cutting through his shoe, splitting his second toe through the center and parting the bone squarely in the middle. The ax continued on splitting his foot for a distance of three inches. The wound bled badly and he lost considerable blood before Dr. E. F. Woods, who was called to attend him could get the house and dress the wound. The cut is a very painful one and it will be some time before he is able to use his foot again.

OPEN REVOLT ON IN SAMAR.

Rear Admiral Rogers So Notifies the Navy Department.

Washington, Oct. 23.—The navy department has received the following cablegram from Rear Admiral Rodgers:

"Cavite, Oct. 22.—Secretary Navy, Washington: Active insurrection in Samar. New York leaves today for Catbalogan with 300 marines, to return to Basesy and Balangiga, to co-operate with army.

"Nearly all naval force concentrated on Samar patrol. Services Arehutsa and Zafiro, two colliers, needed and being utilized. Rodgers."

Naval officials construe this dispatch to mean that the New York will go first to Catbalogan and then to Basesy and Balangiga, landing detachments of marines at each point.

ROOSEVELT AT FARMINGTON.

Spends the Day with His Sister on the Way to New Haven.

Farmington, Conn., Oct. 23.—President Roosevelt, on the way to New Haven to receive a Yale University degree, spent the day here as the guest of his sister, wife of Commander Cowles, U. S. N. His train reached the station, two miles from the village, about 3:30 a. m., and there the presidential special car was side-tracked. Mr. Roosevelt sleeping until 7 o'clock. At that time Mrs. Cowles arrived and welcomed her brother and the others of the presidential party, escorting them to the family residence in the village.

Before leaving the station the president shook hands and conversed with several residents of the place, but in conformity with the expressed wish that his visit here be regarded as private there was no demonstrative welcome such as the townspeople would have been glad to extend. Later in the morning the president received the warden and burgesses of the borough, who expressed their best wishes.

James Gibson, of Milwaukee, district passenger agent for the North-western, was in the city this morning on company business.

COLD IN HEAD
TO A. M. VALENTINE—Janesville—Rock County—Wisconsin.

You are notified that the undersigned, Fred Hessebauer, of the city of Janesville, County of Rock and State of Wisconsin, on the 21st day of December, 1900, while on the premises owned and occupied by you and described as lot number 11, in block number twenty-six (26) of the original plat of the village (now city) of Janesville, at your invitation, received and suffered severe personal injuries, to wit: a rupture of the spine on the left side, also such injuries caused atrophy or shrinking of the muscles on the left side of the back and other manifestations of disease, and other injuries.

That such injuries were received by the breaking through and falling into a cesspool or catch basin situated on the west side of the dwelling house on said premises, the cover to which catch basin or cesspool was negligently constructed and was, through your fault and negligence, in such want of repair and so decayed as to render the same unsafe, unsound and dangerous.

That by reason of the said injuries the undersigned has suffered great pain in body and mind and has been disabled from attending to his business, suffering pecuniary loss thereby, and has incurred expense for medical treatment to his damage, in the sum of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000.00), and that the said injuries were caused by your negligence as aforesaid, satisfaction thereof is claimed of you.

Dated October 21, 1901. FRED HESSEBAUER.
